COUNTRY IN INDIA PROSTRATED

Many People are Reported Killed, Including a Number of Soldiers-The Inhabitants Panic Stricken.

LONDON, June 2 .- Dispatches from Bombay state that news has just reached there of a disastrous earthquake in Cushmere, a The seismic shocks began on Sunday and have continued at intervals of ten minutes

The shocks were very severe at Serinigar, the capital of Cashmere.

The barracks in which several hundred soldiers were quartered was completely destroyed, collapsing so suddenly that nearly half the men were imprisoned in the debris. Fifty are known to have been killed, while fully one hundred were more or less injured.

A portion of the city has been demolished, while very few of the remaining buildings escaped injury, many having large rents made in them.

The people became panic stricken shortly after the disturbances began and fled from the city, taking refuge in boats and in tents in the open fields. The total number of killed and wounded is not yet known, nor the full extent of the damage done owing to the interruption of the working of the telegraph wires. It is feared that the loss of life will be heavy as the latest information from there calls for help, saying that hundreds of animals have been killed and the distress among The terrified inhabitants are now camped in the fields that surround the town. Terinaquer is the center of the vale of Cashmere, and the whole territory experienced the terrible earthquake shocks. The damage caused throughout the vale is enormous. The loss in cattle alone is very great. The strighted people seem to be utterly helpless and succor is being sent them as rapidly as the Indian authorities can afford relief. Many of the houses on account of the large rents in the walls must be razed to the ground. The shocks have not yet ceased and this fact greatly retards the work of rescuing the people pinned down in the debris and it is feared that many of them must perish before they can be reached by

OLD PIONEERS GONE.

Death This Morning of Samuel P. Daniels

Samuel P. Daniels, who has resided in the old homestead, 109 South New Jersey street, for thirty-two years, died to-day aged seventytwo. He settled in this city at an early day, and in 1836 he served as State Librarian, and he was the first mail agent in the railway service, running first on the old Madison Road, and afterward for nine years on the Bee Line. In his active days he was greatly interested in politics, and he remained to his death a democrat of the old school. A wife by a second marriage survives him, and also three children, Louis H. Daniels, Mrs. Leonard Fatout and Mrs. Powell Howland. The deceased was one of the founders of Philoxenian Lodge, I. O. O. F., and the fraternity will have charge of the funeral on Thursday, Some days ago Mr. Samuel Moore, of Perry town-ship, recalled the fact that of all the men in business when he first moved to this county, only Alfred Harrison, Thomas H. Sharpe and Mr. Daniels were now living. At the time Mr. Daniels was a merchant tailor, a business which he abandoned owing to defective eye-sight. His death leaves but two to whom Mr. Moore referred.

Henry Brady, who settled on the homestead farm, in Warren township, six miles east of the city, in 1823, and lived there continuously, died this morning from exhaustion, being stricken with death while walking on the purch. His wife resisted him on the porch. His wife assisted him into the house, but he was dead as she laid him down upon his bed. The deceased would have been ninety-two years of agthe 16th of next September. In early life he was a prominent man in this county, and, The Union Bank of Lower Canada, Montreal, lost $331,000 at Winnipeg by the failure of lumber firms and will not pay a dividend this year.

George T. Davis, trustee of the bondholders of that portion of the I. P. & C. (Wabash) between Peru and Laporte, is in the city. He will remain until Monday next, when the Wabash will surrender possession of the road. The future of the road, he says, is uncertain. The bondholders will bid for it at rereceiver's sale and are willing to pay a fair value. "It they secure the road," said Mr. Davis to-day, "the original intention of the builders will be carried out, and the road will operated in the interest of Indianapolis The Wabash, as I maintain, has not operated in the interest of this city but has turned off all the freight at Eel River and diverted it to Detroit. It has not only operated the road against Indianapolis but ated the road against Indianapolis but against Michigan City, which are the natural objective points of the line. What has the Wabash cared for this little local road when it operates fifty-lour different lines all in the interest of the Wabash as an entirety and not to the advantage of each road and the local stations upon it? They say local stations upon it? They say that the road has not paid operating expesses, but there is no doubt that if operated by friends of this city the 1., P. & C. will become, as it once was, a money-making road."

PROCEEDINGS OF GRAND LODGE.

The Annual Reports of Officers-Something About the Order and Uniform Rank-The Parade To-Morrow.

The Grand Lodge Knights of Pythias of Indiana met at Grand Lodge Hall this morning, with a large attendance of representatives. The principal part of the morning sion was devoted to the consideration of the annual reports of the officers. Wm. L. Dunlap, of Franklin, the grand chancellor, reported that at no time since the advent of etter than at present. Since the last meetcounting all losses by death, desertion in the number of lodges and a net gain in difficulty in controlling it, but finally sucbeen established at Noblesville; Maxwell, none of the property destroyed was of any Hancock county; Rochester, Fulton county; great value. One of the first stables to burn Ligonier, Noble county; Thorntown, Boone general law, so that when a brother had been tried for an offense, found guilty and no punsix months; and that something be done toward strengthening the existing law re-

The grand keeper of records and seals, Mr. D. B. Shideler, in his report made the following showing: Lodges last report, 103; instituted since, 5: resuscitated, 1; total now effective, 109. Number of members last report, 6,560; admitted by initiation, 1,014; by card, 86; reinstated, 83; total, 7,743. Withdrawn by card, 109; suspended, 448; deceased, 41; present membership, 7,142—net gain, 582. The receipts for the year were as folin addition to the balance on hand at last report and other receipts, amounts to $5,871.98. Orders have been drawn on the master of the exchequer for $3,207.88, leaving a balance on hand amounting to $2,664.10. The total assets of the Grand Lodge are $2,895.35 and outstanding liabilities $34.85. The following lodges have failed to report: Delphi, Sullivan, Petersburg and Worthington. The recommendation was made that a committee should be appointed to revise the general laws and have a sufficient number printed general use. The report concludes: "The membership is steadily increasing. Lodges are becoming more numerous, the work more uniform and the assets of the lodges are keeping pace with the liabilities. age and numbers increase the ne. The receipts of the Grand Lodge year are larger and we have a larger sum of money in our exchequer than in any previous year. In a word, and hand in this good work and strive to increase the interests of this young and rapidly growing institution." George C. Webster, Jr., grand master of the exchequer, submitted a detailed report of the financial operations of the order, showing the totals given above. W. L. Heiskell, the grand instructor, an office created at the last session of the Grand Lodge, reported that he had responded to all the calls made on him during the year, and he found that the lodges visited, in the main, work the ranks well, but in most of them there was a great lack of fidelity to the unwritten work, warranting the conclusion that the Grand Lodge had the conclusion that the Grand Lodge had been none too soon in putting forth some effort to secure uniformity in the exemplification of the unwritten work of the order throughout this grand jurisdiction.

Another fruitful cause of the inaccuracy in the work is the loose manner in which some of the lodges are instituted, proper care not being taken to know that the persons having charge of this important work are competent erform it.

The consideration of these reports occupied almost the entire morning session. Mr. D. B. Shideler, in behalf of Decatur Lodge, presented to the Grand Lodge a fine portra of the late grand prelate, R. E. Curran, and various delegates made brief remarks of a memorial character. The election of officers will take place this evening and the Grand Lodge will adjourn to-morrow.

New lodges have ceeded. With the exception of the dye house, was that of James Meskali, No. 211 Fayette since deceased, and the plaintiffs were partcounty, and Portland, Jay county. The street, and the flames communicated to the report recommended an amendment to the roof of the residence. Mr. Meskall died name of the Indiana Banking Company and yesterday morning and his body was still in the house, but it was carried across the street stockholders in the First National Bank, of ishment inflicted, he should be suspended for | to a neighbor's, while the department was at work in the house, which they saved. The stable was totally destroyed, but the loss is small quiring all correspondence with the subordinate lodges with the grand officers to be authenticated with and by the seal of the the loss being probably $300, on which there was $200 insurance in Mr. Spann's agency. James Jenkins, No. 511 North West street, had two stables and a quantity of feed burned, and his loss will probably reach | ter and Carey W. Miller had embezzled burned, and his loss will provadly reach $600, on which there is no insurance. Across the alley was a continuous row of worthless property was carried on the books frame buildings, generally used for wood or coal sheds, and they were all destroyed. Their owners were Thomas McGinnis, William Myers, Richard Keating and James H. Perry, the loss in each case not exceeding 582. The receipts for the year were as follows: Per capita tax from lodges, $3,277.25; charters, rituals, etc., $198.70; cards and traveling shields, $66.15; official recipts, $79; miscellaneous, $144.60; total, $3,765.70, which, in addition to the balance on hand at last relief to the balance of the balance being left standing but the chimney and a few timbers. Mr. Smith estimates his loss at $1,500, on which there is $1,250 insurance in the Mechanics' of Milwaukee. He says the fire started in Jenkins's stable, autioning the dyc-house, and that his work-men tried to put it out with buckets of water. The impression in the neighborhood, however, is that it started in the dye house, which has already burned twice before, the last time about four months ago.

The State Board of Health is holding its egular monthly meeting to-day, considering routine business. At the last meeting of the board each member had certain territory assigned to him for a general inspection as to its sanitary condition, with particular reference to the public institutions, and partial reports were made on these this morning. Dr. Fritsche, who had inspected the Southern Prison at Jeffersonville, reported that its sanitary condition was extremely bade its ewerage was so defective as to be very detrimental to health; proper accommoda-tions were not made for the care of the sick, and the ventilation of some of the buildings was insufficient. He recommended that the attention of the trustees of the institution be at once directed toward these matters. He also reported that he had visited the Poor Houses of Floyd, Clarke and other southern counties, and he did not find them in a satisfactory condition so far as sewerage and ventilation are concerned. Dr. Boots, who had visited the Soldiers' Orphans' Home at knightstown, reported that it was not in a proper sanitary condition, although there were evidences of an improvement under the new regime. He recommended that the Board of Trustees be advised to improve the sewerage and to provide a proper hospital. Dr. Fritsche detailed to make a sanitary inspection of the counties of Clark, Floyd, Harrison and Crawford, reported that he had found the apartments in the poor houses for the use of the incurable insane to be in a ersonville that needs looking sewer gas in New Albany is working mischief. The report was received and the secretary instructed to see that remedies are applied in each case referred to. Dr. Boots presented a report of an inspection of the Home fediers' Orphans. Ventilation there is and the privy vaults are in a bad condition.

Defect in the Telephone Law. It is asserted that the new telephone bill fixing the rental of telephones at not more than $3 per month has been found to be seriously defective. The bill prohibits any telephone company from "charging, collecting or receiving as rental for the use of telephones" a sum in excess of three dollars, but says nothing about charges for service or use of wires. It is intimated that three dollars may and will therefore be charged for rental of the instrument, one for averlange service and construints.

exchange service and one for wires, making five dollars per month, the present rate. Pearson vs. Cottrell.

Councilman Pearson was in the Denison Hotel bar-room early last evening fixing some gas burners for which he is agent, and Police Commissioner Cottrell sauntered up and conversation opened, which drifted to an old business disagreement; hot words followed and blows were exchanged, in which there was more confusion than injury. The affair created some excitement at the time, under the belief that the trouble had a political origin, but when the contrary was a it rapidly dropped out of sight.

OLD FIRST NATIONAL

SUIT AGAINST NEW AND WRIGHT

The Allegations and Demand of the Defunct Indiana Banking Company-An Old Financial Transaction Revived.

The suit entitled William Needham, Peter

J. Banta, Peter Ditmars, Jane E. Ketcham, Fred A. W. Davis and John L. Ketcham, of the old Indiana Banking Company, vs. John C. Wright, John C. New and Samuel Miller, the former of the old First National Bank, ments of opposing counsel. The plaintiffs defense by McDonald, Butler & Mason. It will be a notable trial, covering several days. The complaint alleges that in 1878 Samuel Miller, now made co-defendant, Wm. H. Morrison, name of the Indiana Banking Company and the defendants, New and Wright, were large which the former was president and the latter vice-president, and as such officers they were familiar with its financial condition. Per contra, the plaintiffs were ignorant of its true condition, but defendants (New and Wright) knew it was burdened with a large amount of worthless notes, accounts and poor property, and held a large amount of forged United States bonds, also that James Slaughabout $80,000; also, that said forged bonds and at face or par value, and that the same aggregated $500,000. The defendants (New and Wright) also knew that aggregated said embezzlements were not on the books, but were carried as cash on the books, but were carried as cash on the counter; also that the bills receivable were of such a worthless character, and the indebt-cluess to defendants so large that the stock was not worth par value; and knowing this they entered into a conspir Morrison the stock held by them of the aggregate par value of $238,500, for $393,525, being 65 per cent, premium; and as an inducement to Morrison they represented that ducement to Morrison they represent pre-said stock was worth 100 per cent, pre-mium, with no skeletons in the closets, with the assets in good shape, and with the assets in good shape, and the bills receivable well secured, with no necessity for an examination into its affairs, and that there was at that time an undoubted surplus of assets of $300,000. The complaint also alleges that the defendants (New and Wright) falsely represented that Mr. New had a liberal offer to take service in a national bank in New York, and that Mr. Wright did not feel able to and that Mr. Wright du not leet able to conduct the business, and that this was the only reason for selling out, It is further aileged that, relying upon these assurance, and believing the same be true, said 2,385 shares were purchased and paid for out of the partnershi the Indiana Banking Company. It is still further alleged that such stock was not worth its face value owing to $300,000 worthless bills receivable, $85,000 shortage, owing to bills receivable, $85,000 shortage, owing to embezzlentent, and a further shrinkage by reason of forged bonds of $40,000. It is further charged that it was long after the nurchuse hafter the setten out. fier the purchase before the rotten condition of the bank was discovered, and then not fully until it went into liquidation; meanwhile Mr. Morrison died intestate in 1880, and the plaintiffs conducted the business, Mr. Miller, who appears as co-defendant, selling out his interest to said plaintiffs. The complaint is in two paragraphs both alleging the same material fosts. material facts and praying judg-ment for $250,000, and such other relief as may be accorded. To this complaint the defense has pleaded the statute of limitations, and also a general denial, and in reply to the former paragraph of the same the plaintiffs set up Mr. New's absence on public business, and Mr. Wright's absence in Europe. The taking or testimony began this after-
